14-Day Rapid Soup Diet reviews.

The 14-Day Rapid Soup Diet is a tried and tested weight loss program that works by flushing out the toxins that make it difficult to slim down. Most people believe that you need to diet every day to lose weight, but as you'll see, this is nothing but a misconception.

While working out and exercising do work for some people, others have a harder time losing weight due to the many toxins clogging their lymphatic system. It's a situation that can cause you to lose hope, especially when you have been working out and dieting as advised.

Several studies have shown that 80% of women above 50 suffer from a congested lymphatic system. The congestion leads to a fat overload in the areas around their bellies, hips, and thighs, making them appear obese and out of shape.

A bonus is that they're downloadable at any time of day, immediately after purchase, so you won't have to wait for mail delivery.

This detailed product is designed to help you detox and lead a health life. It contains all the information about starting on a soup diet for rapid detox.

About the Author

I don't know much about the author, who gives his name only as "Josh." That may or may not be his real name, as some of these products are actually created by corporations.

The Immunity Soup book lists Derek Wahler of Derek Wahler Fitness as the author of the book, so "Josh" may be a pseudonym.

This Simple Daily Ritual Thins Out a Clogged Lymph to Flush Away Raw Fat.

When you eat more of these specific soups that support your body, it reduces toxin buildup and allows more fluid to be pumped through the body. Often in as little as 7 days. Once lymphatic fluid is moving freely, fat can be burned for fuel and excess toxins can be flushed from the body.

Even better, according to Dr. Chikly."Greater lymph flow may reduce your risk of plaque buildup in the arteries, high cholesterol, and inflammatory bowel disease." Just remember, when your lymphatic system isn't working properly, because your lymph fluid is too thick from the wear and tear of aging, fat molecules can't be transported to be burned for fuel.

Instead, they stay stuck to your belly, hips, and waistline. causing a buildup of excess pounds.

These 3 "Missing Minerals" Thin Out a Clogged Lymph to Power Off Pounds.

Now that you know a clogged lymph keeps stubborn pounds on your body. And the key is thinning out your lymph fluid, because when it flows freely, your body can burn fat and flush toxins. Let's talk about exactly what you should do to get this fixed. After my doctor dumped all this new information on me. I started studying cases where people successfully reversed their clogged lymphs and were losing anywhere from 20 to 55 pounds in a matter of months. And what kept coming up in study after study were these 3 minerals that most adults are lacking. So my first recommendation would be to start adding foods rich in these minerals right away.

Missing Mineral #1: Potassium :

The most important thing you can do to flush out the extra pounds is. Reprogram your metabolism to burn fat for energy instead of sugars and carbs. Don't worry, it's a lot easier than you think. And I'll explain how in just a minute. However, in order to do that, you need a lot of potassium. If you ever go up a flight of stairs and your legs feel really heavy or you don't have the endurance. That's a potassium deficiency. Now, why it's really important for fat-burning is. Potassium helps regulate fluid in the body. Consuming more potassium helps thin lymph fluid so it can easily flow through the lymphatic tubes, which speeds up slimming. It also helps reduce high blood pressure, protect against strokes, helps prevent osteoporosis, and may help prevent kidney stones. Now, most people think of bananas when it comes to potassium, but. Since they're high in sugar, you'll want to avoid them if you want a smaller waistline. Instead, some great options are mushrooms and zucchini.

Missing Mineral #2: Magnesium :

Magnesium is a "co-factor". That means it's a helper element that's involved in the activation of certain enzymes. One of magnesium's most important job deals with the mitochondria. Think of mitochondria as little "energy bubbles" in your cells. Mitochondria produces energy and the spark plug that activates the enzyme to produce more energy is Magnesium. If you don't have enough magnesium in your body, you may suffer from:

- Low energy
- Fatigue
- Inability to relax
- Cramps and muscle spasms
- Constipation
- Insomnia
- Chronic back pain

Now, here's the kicker. The more extra weight you have on your body, the harder it is for you to absorb magnesium. Which is why studies show that so many overweight adults are lacking in this powerful mineral. It also helps speed up the removal of toxins to reverse a sluggish lymph and banish stubborn pounds.

Missing Mineral #3: Collagen :

Collagen is the most abundant protein in our body. It's what makes up our bones, muscles, tendons, connective tissues, and even our skin! Without it, your metabolism slows down. You get wrinkles. And your muscles and joints become weaker. Unfortunately, our body's collagen production naturally begins to slow down as we get older. This leads to visible signs of aging. Wrinkles...

Sagging skin. And joint pains due to weaker cartilage. Diets high in sugar also deplete collagen levels. However, when you start adding more collagen to your diet. It helps increase your fat-burning metabolism. So you burn more calories and fat throughout the day. It reduces cellulite and wrinkles. It makes your skin look younger and more youthful. And it "tightens up" loose and saggy skin. Have you ever seen someone lose a lot of weight. And their stomach has this "pooch" of leftover skin?

Collagen helps tighten that up. Which is why. If you haven't already. It's extremely important to get more high-quality collagen into your diet. I like to sprinkle some on top of my soups.
