4 Magliner Hand Trucks to Keep At Your Storage Rental Center

If you run a storage rental center, customers will bring in a wide variety of items. From TVs and couches to boats and trailers, people move various items in different shapes and sizes into their storage units. Magliner hand trucks are ideal for keeping on hand at the storage center office for customers to use, from the classic hand dolly to a motorized hand truck. Here are some Magliner items to consider that can make it easier for your customers to bring in their belongings.

Classic Hand Dolly

The classic Magliner hand dolly is the perfect material handling tool to keep on hand for storage unit renters. It's easy to stack boxes or smaller items and wheel them into storage units. This is especially useful if the renter is using a moving truck with a ramp, which easily facilitates moving the items from the truck into the storage space. Magliner hand trucks can be customized, as well, so you can choose different nose plates or handles to help your renters use the dolly better. With a lightweight- durable aluminum frame and capable of handling loads up to 500 pounds, this is the do-it-all tool your customers will love.

Appliance Hand Truck

The Magliner appliance hand truck, also known as the heavy duty hand truck, is perfect for moving furniture and other large items in the storage unit. It features a weight capacity of 800 pounds, and you can add optional side wings and a self-retracting ratchet strap to help keep larger, heavier items in place. It can also help eliminate the need for a team lift, enabling a single person to get the job done. This is a great tool for moving fridges, dressers, washers, and more.

Convertible Hand Truck

The Magliner convertible hand truck is the most versatile material handling tool available. It's ideal for moving a variety of items and will be used often. It starts off as a classic upright hand truck but can quickly convert into a horizontal hand cart in four-wheel mode. Your storage facility is likely on level ground, making it perfect for moving plenty of oddly shaped items or more boxes at once.

Electric Dolly

The Magliner electric dolly is ideal for moving heavy items across long distances. If, for example, they can't get a moving truck into a facility, the electric dolly can easily move couches, refrigerators, and other large, heavy items into place. Switch out the quick-change front plate, and you can use it to tow small trailers into place. If your storage facility offers space for boats, trailers, and other vehicles, this is the perfect tool.
