4 Magliner Upgrades for Your White Glove Delivery Service

Are your white glove delivery drivers working at their most efficient? With Magliner material handling tools, you can upgrade to a variety of tools or customize a 2 wheel dolly to make it perfect for white glove deliveries. From hand trucks that climb stairs to ones that move large appliances, the right tool can help them do their job better.

Customized Hand Trucks

You can customize a Magliner in millions of ways. For white glove deliveries, one of the first customizations should be the wheels. Choose non-marking wheels that won't harm a customer's floor, whether it's a commercial business or a private residence. Another customization option to consider is the type of handle. Find handles that are ergonomic for your employees to help them be more comfortable while using the hand truck. This also ensures they have a secure grip on the hand truck, which is vital when moving heavier loads.

Heavy Duty Hand Truck for Larger Items

Trying to move a couch or refrigerator into place can be a challenge. Chances are it will require a team lift, often with one employee needing to walk backward. Instead, give your delivery drivers the gift of a Magliner heavy duty hand truck and watch a single employee move heavier items with ease. Also called an appliance hand truck, it's ideal for moving larger, heavier objects shorter distances, like from the delivery truck to inside a home. Also, consider options such as side wings and a self-retracting ratchet strap to keep the item in place.

A Powered Stair Climbing Dolly to Help Tackle Stairs

White glove delivery drivers everywhere dread stairs. When they have to move something to the second floor of a home or into a basement, this opens up more potential for injury. The Magliner powered stair climbing dolly makes this challenge incredibly simple by doing nearly all of the work for your employee. They just need to stay in an ergonomic position while guiding the dolly as it moves up or down a set of stairs. If that isn't already an upgrade to their job, consider equipping them with a Magliner heavy duty powered stair climbing dolly for when they need to deliver larger, heavier items weighing up to 725 pounds.

A Convertible Hand Truck for Versatility

If your delivery drivers need an upgrade in versatility, equip them with a convertible hand truck. It takes all of the versatility of the classic Magliner hand truck and pushes it even further. It starts as the classic hand truck, but can quickly change to a horizontal hand cart. It's perfect for stacking more items for delivery or for oddly shaped items.
