Warranty and Lifetime Service

Every fluidfreeride electric scooter comes with a 12-month warranty and a lifetime service commitment of 50% off parts and labor after your warranty expires. If there's ever anything wrong with your scooter, simply email the fluidfreeride team, and their experts will work to diagnose the problem. If it's something you can fix, they will send you the necessary parts, and the experts will provide instructions for you to follow. If it's something more complicated, they can send you to a service location or partner for repairs. Whatever the issue, the fluidfreeride team will do everything they can to get your scooter back up and running.

Eco-Friendly Practices

Electric scooters are more eco-friendly than the typical car, and fluidfreeride is also committed to being an eco-friendly company. They partnered with Trees For The Future to offset their carbon footprint by planting trees for every scooter sold. They use environmentally friendly shipping materials, with more than 90% of the materials being sustainable. They also recycle batteries, often up-cycling them into large-capacity powerbanks.
