

Absolute Mag™ Azide Magnetic Polystyrene Particles, 3 μm

Azide magnetic polystyrene particles are monodisperse magnetic particles, consisting of magnetite around an organic matrix of a polystyrene polymer, and finally coated with a polymer layer for the encapsulation of magnetite, 3 μm. These particles are designed with azide groups on the surface.