Are you a financial planner, tax preparer, notary, or bookkeeper? If the answer is yes, you can get errors and omissions (E&O) coverage from Berxi. E&O insurance is similar to malpractice insurance. Berxi's policies may help cover attorneys' fees, arbitration, and settlement costs.

Technology—An Ever-Evolving Industry

The tech industry is nuanced and constantly changing. If you work as a tech consultant, run a tech firm, and work with other businesses to help them stay ahead of the curve, E&O coverage can be an invaluable asset. In technology, mistakes, misunderstandings, and miscommunications can happen. E&O coverage can help you navigate claims should a client file one against you or your firm.

Creatives—Keeping the Passion Alive

Creatives and freelancers can use E&O insurance, too. If you work in a creative space or as a freelancer, chances are you do it because you appreciate the level of control that can come with that kind of career. You've followed a passion, and now you're immersed in it. However, even as a professional photographer, graphic designer, or copywriter, mistakes can still be made.
