

Close Quarters to Long Range: A Daniel Defense® Gun for Every Shooting Distance

Close Quarters to Long Range: A Daniel Defense® Gun for Every Shooting Distance

Whether you need a small AR pistol as a truck gun or for close-quarters competition, or you're going hunting and need to hit your quarry from a distance, Daniel Defense® offers the AR-style firearms you need. From a 308 AR to a 300 Blackout, you can find the firearm you need to hit your target at any distance.

DDM4 PDW

Do you need a gun you can throw in your truck as you ride around your ranch? Ward off predators with a DDM4 PDW. The 7-inch barrel, chambered in 300 Blackout, is created with a cold hammer forged process, providing phenomenal ballistics with subsonic loads. It's accurate, reliable, and highly maneuverable, which can come in handy in competitive situations. It features M-LOK attachment points and a front handstop, as well as a pistol brace. Since this firearm is NFA-controlled, check the legality of the pistol in your area.

M4A1

The M4A1 is centered around the Daniel Defense® AR15 upper receiver. It's a 14.5-inch cold hammer forged barrel, providing the ultimate accuracy. It features the RIS II Picatinny quad rail, which has been used in the SOPMOD Block II program since 2005. Add a flash suppressor and GRIP-N-RIP ambi charging handle, and you get the all-around AR-style rifle you need for mid- to long-range shooting.

MK12

The MK12 rifle shares some similarities with the M4A1. An evolution of the special purpose rifle, it sports an 18-inch stainless steel cold hammer-forged barrel. This means it's more accurate than the M4A1, though it is a bit harder to maneuver because of the additional length. A 12-inch free-floating Picatinny rail gives you plenty of room for accessories or upgraded optics so you can take your long-range shooting to the next level.

DD5 V4 Hunter

A 308 AR offers excellent ballistics and is perfect for hunting. It's a fast-handling rifle that gives you the reliability, precision, and accuracy you need to hunt North American big game. An adjustable gas block makes it easy to add a suppressor so you won't spook other animals while out hunting. The bolt carrier group helps reduce felt recoil, making it easier to operate, no matter the conditions.

Delta 5 Pro

If precision is most important to you, check out the Delta 5 Pro. These bolt-action rifles offer a .5 sub-MOA guarantee. Even if you're a newcomer to precision shooting, you can find immediate success with a Delta 5 Pro. Daniel Defense® guarantees you will shoot .5 MOA or less at 100 yards with factory match-grade ammo, with science and data to back up that claim.

Find the perfect firearm for any distance from Daniel Defense® at <https://danieldefense.com/>

Original Source: <https://bit.ly/3OgR4Ff>

