

FAMOUS PLACES IN SOUTH INDIA

THAT FOREIGNERS FALL FOR

KERALA BACKWATERS

The intricate network of backwaters in Kerala, particularly in Alleppey (Alappuzha), Kumarakom, and Kollam, offers a serene and picturesque setting. Houseboat cruises through the backwaters allow travellers to immerse themselves in the tranquil beauty of Kerala's countryside.

HAMPI, KARNATAKA

Hampi, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is home to the magnificent ruins of the Vijayanagara Empire. The surreal landscape dotted with ancient temples, grandiose palaces, and boulder-strewn hills creates a mesmerizing atmosphere that transports visitors to a bygone era.

PONDICHERRY

The French colonial charm, colorful streets, tranquil beaches, and spiritual ambiance of Auroville make Pondicherry a captivating destination for foreigners seeking a blend of Indian and French cultures.

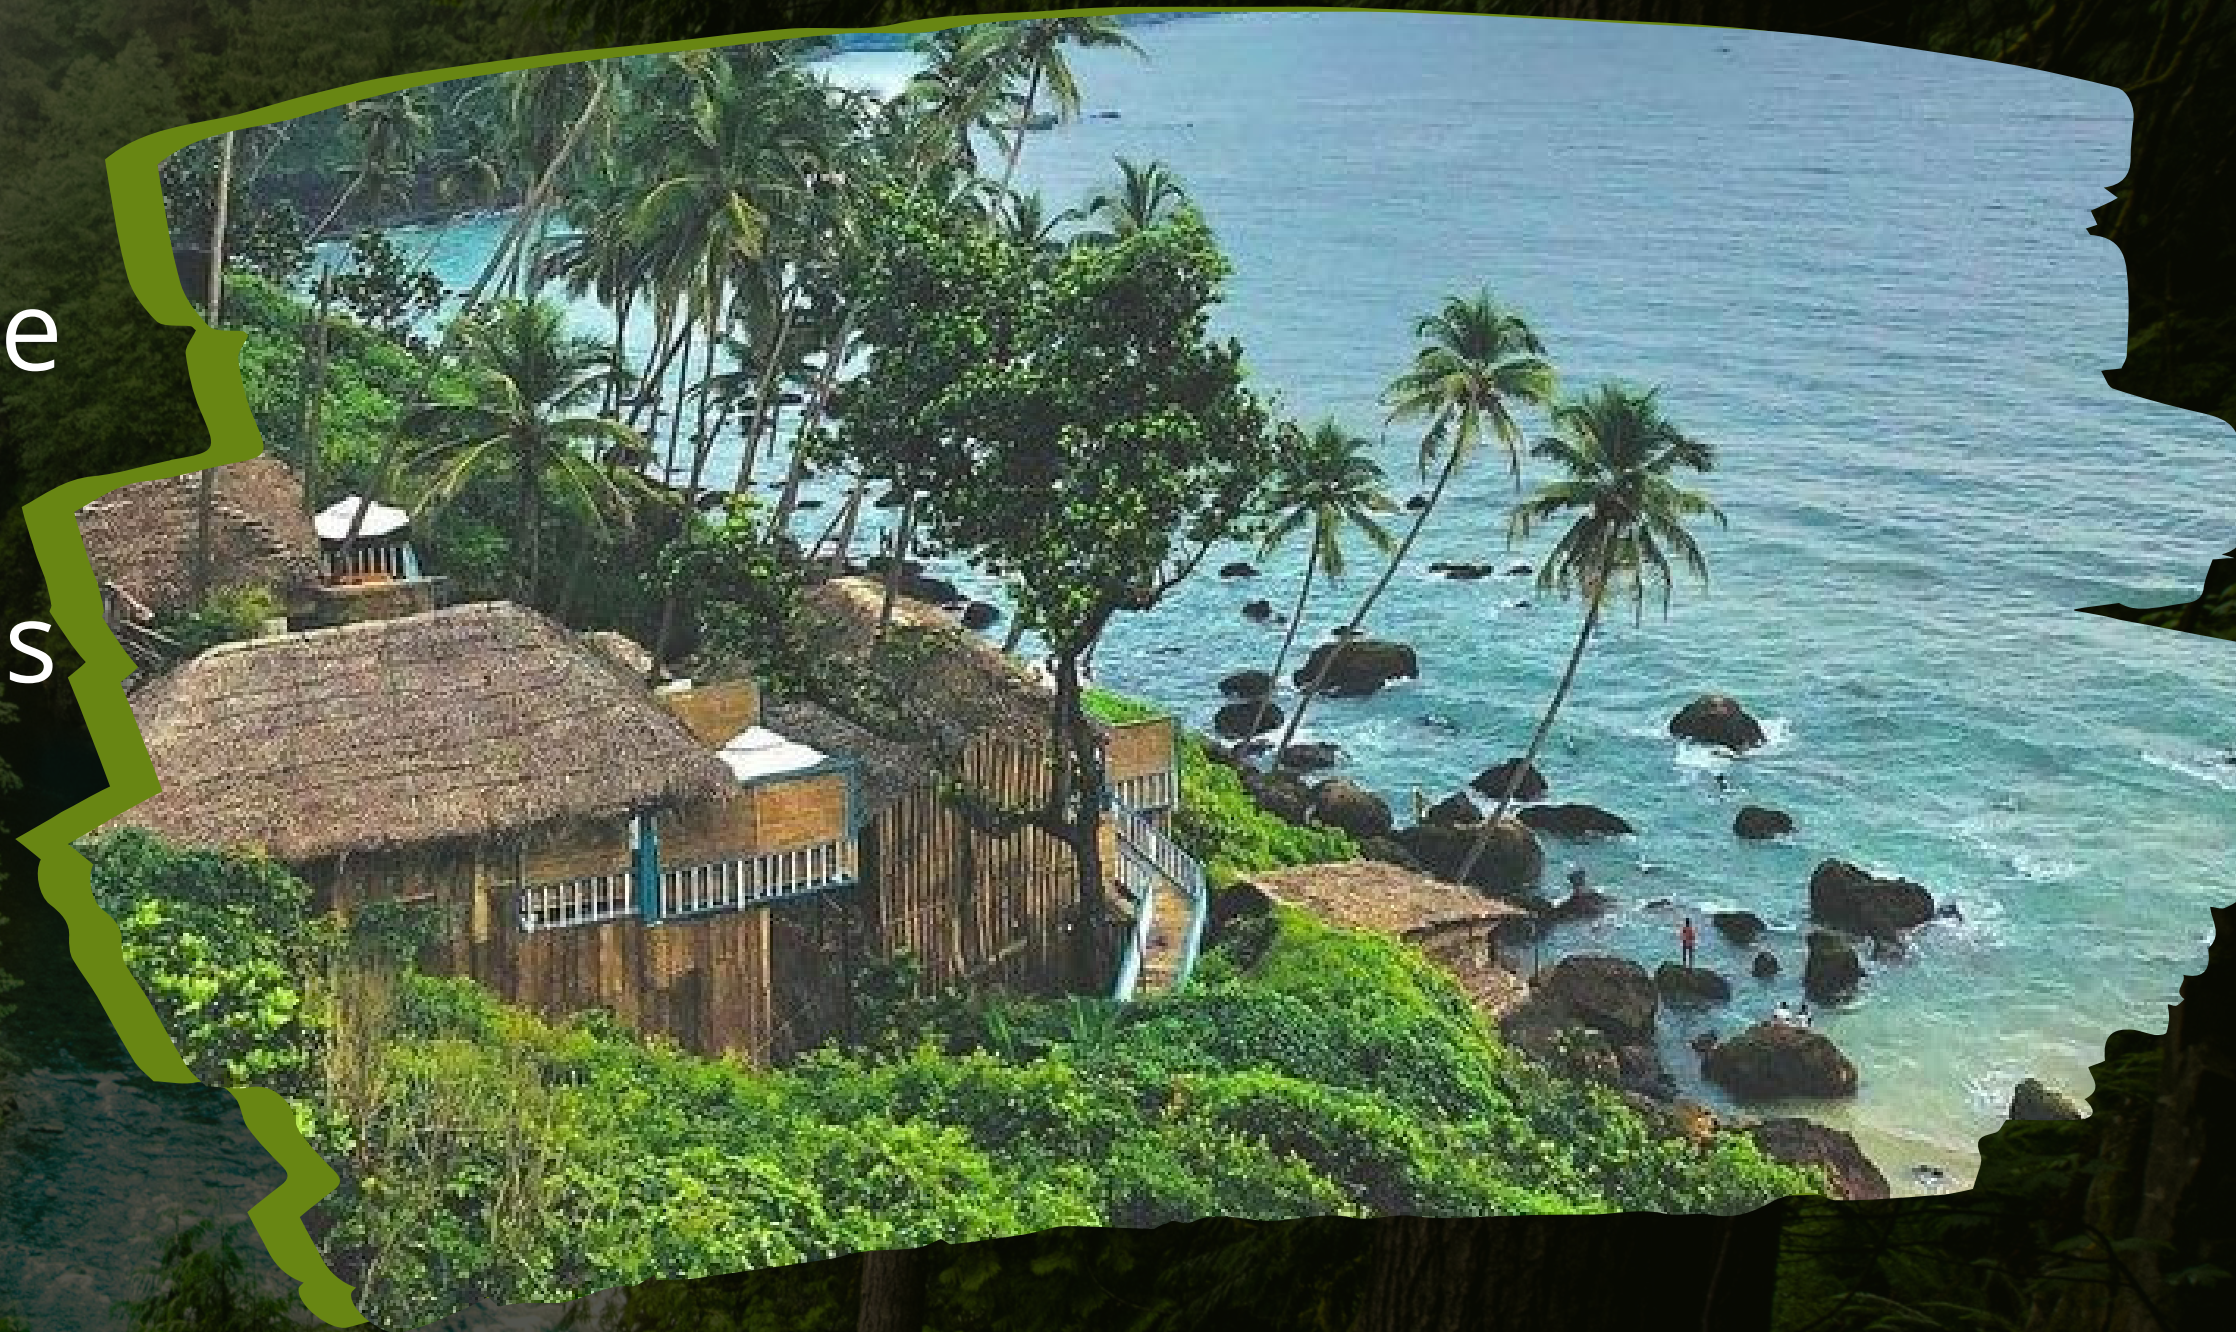

OOTY AND COONNOOR

The scenic hill stations of Ooty and Coonoor in Tamil Nadu, with their rolling hills, tea estates, botanical gardens, and the UNESCO-listed Nilgiri Mountain Railway, offer a refreshing escape into nature.

GOA BEACHES

Goa's pristine beaches, vibrant nightlife, Portuguese architecture, and fusion of Indian and Western cultures make it a favorite destination for foreigners seeking relaxation, water sports, and cultural immersion.

KODAIKANAL AND COORG

The scenic beauty, mist-covered hills, waterfalls, and coffee plantations of Kodaikanal in Tamil Nadu and Coorg (Kodagu) in Karnataka offer a serene ambiance and outdoor adventures for nature enthusiasts and honeymooners.

KARNATAKA HERITAGE SITES

Karnataka's architectural wonders such as the Mysore Palace, Belur and Halebid temples, and the historical city of Mysore with its royal heritage, art, and culture, attract foreigners interested in history and architecture.

GOKARNA BEACHES

Gokarna's pristine beaches, laid-back atmosphere, cliff-top views, and rustic charm make it a preferred destination for backpackers and travellers seeking tranquility and offbeat experiences..
