

Get Ready for Summer Range Days with Daniel Defense®

Get ready for a season of target practice, calibration, and maybe some friendly competition with Daniel Defense®. This premium brand offers new firearms and accessories to get your gun range-ready.

Is it time for a new rifle, like the Daniel Defense® M4A1? Or maybe you're looking for some accessories to add convenience to your next trip to the range? Daniel Defense® even has gear made just for you to round out a good day at the gun range. Here are a few ways Daniel Defense® can help make your summer range days even better this year.

Ready for a New AR15-Style Rifle?

If you've been thinking about adding a new AR15-style rifle to your gun safe, it might be time to pull the trigger. Summer is a great time to bring a new firearm into the fold. Summer can give you ample opportunity to take your new firearm to the range to put it through its paces and calibrate it to fit your needs.

A new Daniel Defense® M4 carbine, like the M4A1, is a great platform for range shooting. Add your own optics, and you'll be all set for an afternoon of target practice with your friends and family.

Bulk Up Your Ammunition

You want to spend your range day shooting, not sitting around reloading magazines. Take care of your ammo-loading chores ahead of time with the bulk magazine options from Daniel Defense®. Show up with a dozen fully loaded mags ready to go, and you can start training while your buddies are still counting rounds.

Having extra mags ready to go for your Block 2 M4—or any firearm—adds convenience to any range trip. Plus, it can be nice to have extra mags locked in your gun safe. It comes down to saving time and getting more out of your firearms experience whether you're at the gun range, competition, or anywhere else.
