Being a self-employed entrepreneur can come with its fair share of perks. You are your own boss. You call the shots. You get to make decisions that impact the direction of your career. You probably know where this conversation is going. Being self-employed can also come with its fair share of challenges.

One challenge can be navigating a potential issue with a client or patient. No one ever wants a malpractice claim filed against them, but it can and does happen. Berxi may have the tools and resources you need to protect yourself and your business—whether you run your business out of your home office or lease an office in your community.

Berxi offers a range of professional policies, like malpractice insurance for nurses, dentists, and many others. They can also help cover tax preparers, financial planners, and freelance web developers. If you're a self-employed professional, here are a few ways a Berxi policy can benefit your business.

You Are Your Own Livelihood

As a self-employed business owner, you may have a limited support system and limited resources compared to more traditional businesses. You may only have yourself to fall back on in the event something happens. With Berxi, however, that can change. With a policy like professional liability insurance for counselors, you can unlock a bevy of resources.

Some of these resources can include options should a client or patient file a malpractice claim against you. You can get support in terms of both legal representation and financial help. As a result, you may have to worry less about your livelihood. You have a partner who can help you navigate any claims so you can get things back on track—or never leave the tracks at all!

Your Reputation Can Be on the Line

Your reputation can mean everything as a self-employed business owner. Berxi offers policies, including their nursing malpractice insurance, that take your reputation into consideration. After all, you've put a lot of time, money, and effort into building your personal brand—now you can let Berxi help you protect it.

Reputation coverage can be a small part of a larger malpractice or E&O policy. But it can also make a huge difference. If your name and reputation become targets, your policy may open up resources you can call on to get things back on track. These can include access to a crisis management or public relations specialist who can guide you to your next steps.

Helping You Keep Your Eyes on the Prize

It's nice to have someone you can call when you need help. Just having that option can mean you can stay the course when it comes to your business. You know what your goals are for your career. You don't need any distractions or worries getting in the way. Berxi can take care of at least some of your distractions and worries.

As you look to the next stage in your career and business, you can keep a Berxi policy in your "back pocket" for those just-in-case moments. You might call it peace of mind. You might call it simple entrepreneurial sense.
