How to Upgrade Your Kit with Daniel Defense®

Thanks to Daniel Defense®, upgrading your range kit is easy. Whether you want to get a full M4A1, a sidearm, or build a rifle from scratch to replace an old rifle, Daniel Defense® offers the firearms and accessories you need to prepare your kit for the range. Which rifle, upgrade, or upper is right for you? Here's a closer look at a few popular options.

Find a New Rifle

Your first option for an upgrade is a new rifle. Daniel Defense® is well-known for high-quality rifles. Whether you're looking for an M4 carbine, a precision bolt-action rifle, or an AR chambered in 308, your new favorite range rifle is waiting for you. All Daniel Defense® rifles are designed, engineered, and built to perform under the harshest conditions. They also come with a 100% satisfaction guarantee, so you're covered if anything goes wrong.

Equip a Sidearm

Are you looking for a sidearm upgrade? Try the Daniel H9. Daniel Defense® has taken the concept of a handgun to a new level with the H9. It combines the pointability and ergonomics of the classic 1911 with the maintenance and easy shooting of a striker-fired handgun. A low bore axis helps reduce muzzle flip and recoil, allowing for faster follow-up shots. Offering customizable, ambidextrous controls, a 1911-style trigger with a safety blade, and a durable yet lightweight aircraft-grade aluminum frame, it's everything you're looking for in a sidearm.

Build Your Own Rifle

Another option is to build your own rifle. Choose the Daniel Defense® parts you want to create your own customized rifle. It's a great feeling knowing you connected the MK12 upper to the lower of your choice, decided on a stock, and replaced the muzzle attachment with a suppressor. It's the best way to find the perfect fit for your needs, whether you're looking for a hunting rifle or a competition sharpshooter. You get the freedom to choose each individual part, helping you make it ergonomic for you and ideal for your use case.

Explore Accessories and Upgrades

If you want to upgrade your current firearm, Daniel Defense® offers parts and upgrades that can help you breathe new life into old rifles. From new gas blocks and barrels to rails and charging handles and stocks, you can upgrade many parts of your rifle to take it to the next level. Add a new muzzle brake that accepts suppressors, or get a complete bolt carrier group. It may not be as customized as putting together the rifle yourself, but it will still be a rifle that is special to you.
