What is Involved in a Biomechanical Assessment?

The feet play a vital role in the foundation of our body's movement. Our biomechanical assessment will involve looking at the overall picture. We will perform an overall postural assessment (Weight – bearing and non weight bearing), strength assessment and gait analysis. We will assess you from the ground up, diagnose and provide a treatment plan based on our findings.

Our Sports Podiatrist in Northmead, Carlingford and Concord will use this assessment to identify the root cause of your condition. Our core belief is to identify biomechanical anomalies, medical conditions, musculoskeletal abnormalities and address those with great detail prior to commencing manual therapies. By addressing the causation, it will lead to a more optimal outcome for you.
