

The peptide is one kind of delivery molecule for RDC (Radionuclide Drug Conjugate), which can drive the RDC compound to the targeting diseased tissue. The most commonly used peptide in RDC is the one that can identify the SSTR (Somatostatin Receptor).