Cuvée hosts a portfolio of luxury vacation homes around the world, including many sought-after dream destinations. These are destinations where you can enjoy new experiences and get lost in the magic of it all. Here are three experiences that can bring your dreams to life on your next getaway.

An African Safari in the Serengeti

Some experiences can genuinely take your breath away. These are rare experiences few get to enjoy, but when you get the opportunity, you can't pass it up. One experience that can fit this description is the annual wildebeest migration across the Serengeti.

Cuvée's Serengeti House in Tanzania is one of their African luxury house rentals, and it gives you a direct view of the Serengeti. You can swim in the private infinity pool and take in the sights and sounds of the African plains.

You can also go on safari in the Grumeti Game Reserve, on the northwestern edge of Serengeti National Park. The Grumeti Game Reserve is part of a massive migration corridor through the Serengeti and Tanzania. If you time it just right, you can see the legendary wildebeest migration—along with a veritable menagerie of indigenous wildlife, including cheetahs, lions, elephants, and giraffes.

A Deep-Sea Fishing Expedition

There's something magical about catching a white and blue marlin and having your own private chef prepare a meal with your catch of the day. In the waters around St. Barts, you can indulge in a deep-sea fishing experience and enjoy the fruits of your labor.

The St. Barts deep-sea fishing expedition starts with your Cuvée vetted and approved captain. Your captain serves as your guide, steering you through the abundant waters of the Caribbean. The whole family can try their hand at deep-sea fishing as you search for the perfect catch.

After a day on the waters around St. Barts, you can return to shore and enjoy a feast featuring your catch. Your private Cuvée chef works their magic to craft a spread that's sure to leave your palate satisfied.

A Fiat Adventure Through Antiquity

Tuscany is rich in history. The central region of Italy is known for its rolling hills, endless vineyards, and towns dating back centuries. In this land of classical art and architecture, there's one way you can see it firsthand, and it weaves together a tale of antiquity and modernity.

It's behind the wheel of a Fiat. Not just any Fiat, mind you, a vintage Fiat 500, circa the 1960s. From Cuvée's Tuscan luxury vacation house rentals, you can get behind the wheel of this classic car and take in the sights and sounds of the Chianti hills.
