Why You Need These 3 IMAGE Skincare® Essentials for Summer

Do you change your approach to skincare in the summer? With more time spent in the sun and heat, changing your skincare can help your skin respond and adapt. IMAGE Skincare® can help prime your skin for the summer.

IMAGE Skincare is known for their Hand and Stone Massage and Facial Spa experiences and their comprehensive range of skincare products. These are products you can find in professional spas—and products you can bring home to use as part of your daily regimen.

There are IMAGE Skincare essentials you can bring home this summer that may improve your summertime complexion. Here are a few of those products and how they can do that.

ORMEDIC® balancing antioxidant serum

Throughout the summer, you may notice your complexion appearing dry and tired, if not dehydrated. Time in the sun, heat, and dry air can pull moisture from the skin. You can respond by restoring moisture with a targeted approach to hydration.

The IMAGE Skincare ORMEDIC balancing antioxidant serum is one option that can help you restore lost moisture. This soothing serum is made with several antioxidant-based ingredients, including key botanical extracts, vitamin C, and more.

Along with aloe vera, these ingredients can help infuse the skin with hydration. The result can be a complexion that looks and feels more hydrated. You might not even know you spent the summer under the sun!

VITAL C hydrating anti-aging serum

IMAGE Skincare has a robust collection of serums for face application. Another serum to consider this summer is the VITAL C hydrating anti-aging serum. The VITAL C collection is formulated with key hydrating and brightening ingredients.

VITAL C can help you target an array of concerns that can be highlighted by the summer sun. These concerns can include the formation of dark spots, discoloration, and uneven skin tone. VITAL C can also help you target fine lines—another summertime concern.

DAILY PREVENTION™ ultra defense moisturizer SPF 50

When it comes to summer skincare, taking preventative measures can go a long way. Incorporating an SPF-based moisturizer into your daily regimen may effectively prevent skin moisture loss and UV-related irritation.

IMAGE Skincare's DAILY PREVENTION ultra defense moisturizer SPF 50 can be a versatile addition to your daily regimen. It can help lock in moisture and support your moisture barrier while leaving your complexion more nourished and protected.

In short, DAILY PREVENTION ultra defense moisturizer SPF 50 can quickly become your summer go-to moisturizer. Of course, IMAGE Skincare offers a complete line of SPF moisturizers, so you can find the one that best complements your skincare regimen.
