Court case astrology can be of great help when a prediction has to be made on “Will I win the court case?” but caution has to be exercised while selecting the astrologer to answer this question because this is not a simple or general reading that any astrologer can easily do.

Suppose general rules of astrology are to be applied. In that case, the sixth house comes close to giving the readings/predictions of the court case matters as per the birth chart because, from the sixth house, matters related to enemies, victory over enemies, enemies causing troubles/grievous injuries, compromise, fighting and its outcome, enemies properties, hostile attitude etc. are the significations of the sixth house apart from other signification such as hatred, illness, infections, wounds, death, robbery,

An experienced court case astrologer can determine to what extent the significations of the sixth house have to be used along with the Karaka to give a reading in winning a court case as per the birth chart. He can also make out situationally what more houses are to be read to arrive at solutions because not all cases have the same punishments, and sometimes, the agony is felt by just visiting the courts repeatedly.

What Charts And Houses Are Read To Answer: Will I Win The Court Case?

Usually, the first house belongs to the answer seeker, while the seventh house belongs to the opponent. However, a strong first house gives victory to the answer seeker. Usually, an able astrologer reads the following things before coming to any conclusion:

- The strength of the 6th house of the answer seeker.
- The strength of Lagna of the answer seeker.
- The strength of the Moon of the answer seeker.
- The Dasha
- The Transit of planets concerning the 6th house, Lagna and the Moon.

Above are the regular readings that every astrologer might do for the reading, but reading the above only gives results that are only 30 % accurate. The following additional readings are to be carried out simultaneously:

Reading the D-6 Chart for all the above five things.

Reading the D-60 chart of all the above five things.

So, even astrologers who are good at reading charts still fall short of definite results, as something remains amiss when they give the above report.

The Missing Factor

What more is there to read to give this question a complete Vedic astrology result? It is indeed the Prashan or the Horary chart.

A Prashan Chart must be cast along with the above charts to arrive at a definite solution on the subject matter. Very few accomplished astrologers can read the Prashna Chart, and therefore, even fewer astrologers have the special ability to read the charts for the question, “Will I win the court case? “

If you are still searching for the best court case astrologer who masters the horoscope reading technique for all matters related to the court of law, look no further; you are in the right spot.
